

Live market engagement: Sustainable procurement of ICT

make
ICT fair

 3 October 2018, 9:00 – 13:00

 Nijmegen

We are delighted to invite you to our upcoming live market engagement event, where buyers and suppliers meet on sustainable procurement of ICT!

The event will bring together public procurers and suppliers in the field of ICT from all over Europe to discuss procurement needs and solutions, focusing on social responsibility and transparency in supply chains.

Why should you participate?

The live market engagement event is for all interested suppliers who wish to gain increased understanding of the procurement aims, tendering opportunities and sustainability policies of public authorities across Europe in relation to ICT products and services. The public authorities will showcase their needs for upcoming large procurement of ICT.

Opportunity will be provided for suppliers to showcase solutions and initiatives that increase the social, ethical and environmental sustainability of their supply chains, and can help public authorities meet their socially responsible procurement aims.

Who is this event for?

- Procurers from public entities responsible for the procurement of ICT solutions and interested in implementing socially responsible solutions
- Suppliers that would like to showcase their sustainable solutions and initiatives, and learn more about contract opportunities
- Experts in ICT procurement from private companies, research institutions or public entities with an interest in social responsibility of ICT
